SCIS-HQ Interactors teach at Kai Yuan Middle School

On 27th November 2014, Duncan Richards, Amy Kim, Ayaka Kinoshita and Karyn Seng, taught their first English lesson to fun-loving and motivated 6th graders. The 'new Teachers' and enthusiastic children enjoyed the time tremendously. Thank you to Sunny Jiang, Mr Hunt and Miss Koenig for organizing this community service, which, in the New Year the teaching will be done weekly.

The Four-Way Test 四大考验

Visit to WILL Foundation

On Saturday 30th November, Interactors Eric Chen, Florian Wong, Alissa Johnson and Duncan Richards visited the WILL Foundation on Chong Ming Island. They helped to decorate their Xmas tree and cut out stars and snowflakes for hanging up. After some practical work and singing, games were played outside. Each child received a gift bag made by the Interact Club members.

This was an evening with so many guests that there were worries that the Hilton might run out of food – though Edith Du discussed with the Hilton and in the end all received a meal.

We welcomed the Shanghai Voices, giving us a sample of wonderful Christmas songs, and not just the typical fare which one hears in elevators and shopping malls. Later the Percy Chu Scholars were honored. I believe it is true to say that not one of our club members was unimpressed after meeting these students in person, but also after listening to speeches given by them. In perfect English, but, even more impressive, freely spoken without prompts, these were more fresh and more lively than many professional speakers visiting us. Marjorie and her selection committee obviously did find the right recipients for the Percy Chu Scholarship.

Sergeant at Arms was again Samuel, this time assisted by a future president, Dean. One memorable donation were 1200 RMB by Rudolf Chiou to commemorate that in Kunshan a group of Rotarians has started to work on establishing a club there.

The meeting, which ran far longer than normal meetings, though nobody seemed to rue this fact, was adjourned with a toast by President Frank to all Percy Chu winners.
