Today's topic: China's second tier cities

Our speaker today, Adam McWhirter will focus on the China International Cities Index, providing information on what is happening in other cities in China. Some of you may be surprised but yes, except Shanghai there are other cities in China. What does it mean for us, for the business community and what new opportunities does this open up?

The China International Cities Index is a report done annually by Maxelli and uses a set of indicators to measure the ‘internationalness’ of Cities.

On the next page, find the answers to the questions and a calculate your personal score

Am I a good Rotarian? The answers.....

1. The "Four Way Test" is composed of how many questions?

Correct answer: is C (4 points)

5. When Paul Harris visited Shanghai in 1936, he did what?

A: is definitely correct, 4 points
B: we hope so, 2 points

6. What is Polio Plus?

The correct answer is B (4 points)

2. The President of Rotary International is currently who?

B (4points), even though C is also an excellent answer (3 honorary points).

7. In this photo: Who is NOT Paul Harris?

A: A RC Shanghai PP is a good enough answer, 4 points
B: 4 points

8. What is the official motto of Rotary?

A: Should be the unofficial motto, 2 points
C: Service above Self, 4 points
D: Traditional greeting of the incoming President when meeting the immediate PP (0 pts)

3. One of the preconditions for becoming a Rotarian is which??

(a) Correct answer is B (4 points) The other answers result in a deduction of 1 point.....

9. Which of the following is NOT a Rotarian youth organization?

B: even though Rotary counteracts much, it is not yet an official branch of Rotary (4 points)

4. Rotary meetings are known for what?

(a) You got to be kidding
(b) Correct, 4 points
(c) Excellent idea, though not commonly part of the Rotary agenda
(d) In Shanghai yes, other clubs should follow swiftly

10. What is the attendance rate required by RI?

C: is the correct answer (4 points) though answer A gets an honorable mention: 2 points

Your Results:

>40 points: Did you read the first question in the Four Way Test?

30-40 points: This is perfection. You are a true Rotarian., we might even call you an 'uber-Rotarian'. We assume your children are called 'Paul' and 'Harris' (or Pauline and Harriette). There is little that you can do to improve yourself, except for putting the Rotary pin also onto your pajamas. You are definitely presidential material.

20-30 points: Sorry to say, but you seem to be an average, run-off-the-mill Rotarian. Provided that you want to improve yourself, we recommend a 'coming-out'. Proposals would include a Rotary logo on your forehead or to try some body piercings with the Rotary pin. (please only pierce body parts which can be shown at Club meetings without causing embarrassment though).

10-20 points: Uh oh, some lapses in Rotarian etiquette. We recommend that you read and memorize the bylaws of the RC Shanghai. There will be unannounced tests over the coming weeks.

0-10 points: Shame on you. We recommend some RC training as offered by the RC Shanghai. In addition, read the Pagoda, the venerable newsletter of the RC Shanghai, regularly and contribute to it to earn redemption points.

Highlights from the last meeting

The last meeting was dedicated to Interact. Thus a large number of interactors from .5 Interact Clubs join, driving the number of dinner guests to a nearly unprecedented level.

Dean presided over the meeting and also welcomed our guests. Marjorie did lead us into the Four – Way –Test. Terri highlighted the coming Golf tournament – buy Raffle tickets fast! Only few are left. Happy money collection by Dean and Filippo was brief, not because people were unhappy but because the Interactors and their presentations were many. 5 schools did join, out of 7. 2 schools, because of the long distances involved, were unable to join. The number of projects and the energy behind these was truly impressive. Nursing homes were visited, gifts handed out to children of migrant workers, bazaars were organized, Interactors acted as teachers, banana – art and Chongming tours were introduced, orphanages supported and book-events organized and much, much more. Not less impressive were the presentations and presenters per se, highly professional in word and speech.

Therefore, quite obviously, the meeting was adjourned with a toast to the Interact Clubs.
