For those of us living normally in Shanghai, hard times may seem far away, but we must not forget the needs of others less fortunate.

This year You Dao, whilst continuing to support Shanghai's migrant families through education scholarships, have also widened their activities to help those in need with new projects in Hejing Yunnan, as well as the vision project and aid packages & family days

We can only do this work with your help!

We look forward to seeing old & new friends of You Dao on May 9th. If you cannot attend this You Dao dinner, please consider making a donation to support the work of You Dao in these still challenging times – simply choose from the ticketing menu by scanning the QR code.

对于我们这些生活在上海的人来说，艰难的日子似乎感不可及，但我们不能忘记其他不幸而需要帮助的人。今年将继续通过教育奖学金支持上海外来务工人员家庭的同时，也扩大了活动范围。在云南就开展了新的帮扶项目。有关儿童保护的帮扶计划，特别援助计划和家庭日等还是实际中，在这个充满各种挑战的特殊时段，我们仍期待能在5月9日“爱的晚餐”中与地道的新老朋友见面。如果您不能参加本次“爱的晚餐”，也可以通过捐款支持我们。扫描二维码从票务菜单中选择。

Last Tuesday we went to a Spanish restaurant called Azul for our latest fellowship dinner. Going there already as a joyful group, as the dinner starting with a super nice selection of tapas complemented by a few Sangrias and drinks, we became even more cheerful and lively. Rita toasted Peter for being back with us after a long time of absence, we then started to toss jokes around to each other. The three birthday celebrants present at dinner are certainly not going to get away with it, Tracy, Christoph 1 and Christoph 2.

Alejandro announced the event related to the blood donation that was organized by Bloodline on Saturday to collect blood for children suffering from leukaemia. (About this, I'd like to remind you that even if you didn't make it on Saturday, you can always be in touch through Bloodline WeChat account and the group to ask for donation at any time that is convenient for you.)

We finished the abundant and delicious meal, and since the weather was finally reminding springtime is at our door, we moved outdoor for the last drink.
