Highlights from the last meeting

President Andrew oversaw this sparsely visited meeting. Sparsely visited unfortunately, as there were two exciting topics on our agenda. But first things first. As always, we started with the Four-Way-Test, professionally spoken (also in Chinese) by Catalin. Rita then introduced visiting Rotarians and Guests. Tiziana gave a quick photographic review of the YouDao visit (see previous Pagoda). Then Philipp and Christian introduced the new website (see also p1). After that Spencer Doddington entertained us with a speech about historic buildings in Shanghai, touching issues as diverse as what the major obstacles are for restoration to what 'Chinese Art Deco' is. He finished with a slide on old Longhua Airport and its modern, garish re-incarnation as Sauna/Massage/Karaoke parlor. The meeting was then adjourned with our customary toast to designers of historic buildings and our new website.
