Vocational Training and Education: let's be serious!

Many industries bemoan the lack of well trained workers. The inability of TVET Schools and Centres to train competent workers even for industry 2.0 is standing in the way of attaining China's "Made in China 2025" Industry 4.0 goals, which require companies to achieve significant improvement in overall manufacturing quality, enhancement of creativity and productivity, and the integration of industrialization and information.

China has its own way of achieving important goals, but the formation of adequate human resources for the factory floor clashes against arduous systemic hurdles that will take more than massive investments in TVET to overcome.

Little known Hangzhou-based Yizhong Education Consulting Limited, founded in 2009 by retired professor Carlo Socol, is developing best practices that could be winners. Grounded in comparative education studies at Zhejiang University College of Education, Yizhong's methodology has been tried first with a pragmatic, then with an empirical approach at Changshan County Vocational High School, successfully introducing and adapting well tried methods imported from Europe that actually help students acquire real competencies.

Carlo Socol first reached the China coast in 1964, went on learning Mandarin in Taiwan and Cantonese in Hong Kong. He earned a PhD in History at Rome's Jesuit University – incidentally, Matteo Ricci's Alma Mater - in 1983. He taught history, researched the history of Vocational Education in pre-WW2 China, and moonlighted as a development project manager in South East Asia. In 2006 he moved to Hangzhou, set up and co-directed the Zhejiang University Seeco Educational Research Centre. In 2009 he founded Yizhong Education to take up the challenge of TVET in its concrete settings, in schools and factories.

Thomas and the Four Way test

Waited moment of the night. Alejandro Burriel’s speech about communication skills, active listening and rapport. He went through several impactful explanations about what coaching is and why it is so important. Even how world is changing is important. To explain this he gave the example of the top 10 skills required in 2015 compared to the ones expected for 2020. Recognizing anxiety and stress in our behavior is a first step. A coach helps solving by letting people understand how to change behavior. The five A’s of change was very clear. Listening is probably the most important part of a rapport, most people do not listen with the intent to understand. That’s the main problem of misunderstandings. A good point is empathy, and Rotarians are good at empathy. It’s the way that make them changing society. That’s why he proposed a game to us, a test we all made with honesty by following the first rule of 4Way test, “ Is it the truth”? Yes, we said the truth!
At the end of the meeting Moto-san offered our toast to RAPPOR.

Pradeep announcing the Election Committee meeting

Highlights from the last meeting

Our weekly meeting started as per tradition with The Four Way Test lead by Thomas, followed by Sergeant David introducing visiting Rotarians and Guests. This time it has been a tough job for Dave, we definitely missed Vivian’s precision in preparing the list! Banner exchange time saw the introduction of a new tradition. The “ Bringing Back Banner”: Alex visited a Club in Malaysia and donated their banner to the club, launching the new tradition. Every member visiting other clubs around the world is well invited to share the collected banners.

During announcement time Terri reminded all of us about our Charity Golf Tournament and President Moto-san about our joint meeting on Oct, 28th . Frank Yih invited every Rotarian to his upcoming birthday party and Markus Hempel introduced the location for our Special Fellowship Night outside Marriott as “ Chez Maurice” . French Restaurant in Tai-An Road (see invitation below). Deadline for reservations is October, 27th. President Moto-san, informed us that the contract with Marriott Hotel has been signed. There is a special deal for RCS members! Rita, Chair of SPC, let us know that the third Library donation has been approved by the Committee and that the appointment to build and work for it will be in November, so stay tuned for updates!

This was Rtn. Alejandro’s Night. Not only he was our speaker tonight but he also better introduced himself during “Classification” appointment. We all know Alex as he has been very active in our club, two years as a Director, as Chair of Service Projects Committee and now as VP and Chair for Rotary Foundation. He started as an Attorney in Law and was CEO of his first company at the age of 20years old. He volunteered for an NGO in Cambodia helping refugees. All what he has been doing in life had one single goal: making the world a better place. As a consultant and trainer, in few words his way of thinking is “ give a man a fish and you feed him for a day, teach a man how to fish and you will feed him for a lifetime”.

Happy Money was lead once again by the strong spirit of visiting Rtn. John Bartlett from the UK, helped by our Irish Frank Mulligan. What a couple! This moment saw happy people, sad people, some time “ miserable people”... it was fun! And during this moment PP Andrew challenged everyone to buy raffle tickets for the Golf Tournament in aid of Youdao Foundation. The challenge then continued on the next few days on our wechat group giving a very good result.

Alex night

A day of golfing for Charity

It was a perfect day for golf! Light wind, bright day and beautiful Silport golf course. Being a working day it was difficult for the organizers to attract enough players particularly immediately after the Golden week. Yet 42 players were on the final score card and many others joined for dinner in evening.

For me it was a milestone of life because I was restarting my golf after a gap of 2 years that I needed to fix my injured back due to too much golf without sufficient conditioning!! I enjoyed every minute on course and even scored lowest net score in my flight of players who were my colleagues from P&G days. I also got a prize for scoring nearest to the pin on a par 3 hole! Sandwiches were served on the golf cart so we enjoyed our bites while we played and most graciously our dear Terri arranged vegetarian sandwich for me that was nice.

You Dao foundation had arranged a big team of volunteers to make sure all activities from bags check in to registration to tournament briefing to dinner and then prize distribution were executed perfectly.

It was nice meeting many old friends over dinner and before and after the game. One thing was sure – anyone I asked how was the game, response was we enjoyed.

Board Training for Youth Club

- by Ludovic Anterieur

Every year, our club invites the officers of our club-sponsored Interact and Rotaract clubs for a day of training. This year, on September 23, the Board Training was hosted on the campus of SCIS HongQiao with the assistance of Teacher Adviser Matthew Kushner.

The training started at 11am, yet, from 10:15, Interactors of SCIS HongQiao were outside in the rain helping visitors find their way to the conference room.

In total, 3 teacher advisers and 30 Interactors and Rotaractors attended (from Interact club of SEFLS, Interact Club of SHSID, Interact Club of SAS Pudong, Interact Club of SCIS Puxi, Interact Club of NanMo, provisional Interact Club of SAS Puxi, Rotaract Club of Shanghai, Rotaract Club of NYUSH and guest Rotaract Club of Fresh Start).

The training featured 8 speakers.

5 from RCS: YSC Ludovic Anterieur, Dir Frank Mulligan, PP Roger Owen, Treasurer CM Tsang, P Motohiro Yamane

1 from RCSW: IPP Lohas (Roy Chu)

1 from RACS: Angela Dunnham

1 from Interact Club of SHSID: Takayasu Yamane (also attending)

Total attendance, 40.

The Training started on time with a welcome speech by SCIS HongQiao Interact President Marcus Tan. The first topic was a brief introduction of Rotary International, Rotary in China, Rotaract, Interact and the values of Rotary, as expected this part was boring. The second topic was presented by Motohiro, legal status update for charity activities in China. The contents were difficult but Interactors gave full attention and later requested the contents.

Lunch break started after this second topic. Food arrived late leaving enough time for each clubs to introduce themselves. Pizzas arrived 15 minutes late. We cut the pizza boxes in two and used them as plates to reduce waste. Only two pizzas were left over, they were given to and accepted by the cleaning ladies.

Training resumed a little late with Roger presenting RCS Water Project to explain project management. Roger shared his experience, tips for success, then proceeded to split the audience in group asking them to restate the important points of his speech. The winner team got a box of moon cakes.

Frank came next with a talk about project stakeholders. Similarly to Roger, Frank gave a short lecture and a practical case, again, groups participated in a contest to determine stakeholders. Both these topics had good reception. Our young leaders demonstrated interest, energy, intelligence and humor during the games.

Afternoon break was skipped due to lunch delay.

The second part of the afternoon was for group sessions. On one side, Lohas and Takayasu, both ex presidents of Rotary and Interact clubs shared their experiences with Presidents and Vice Presidents. On the other side, CM shared about the how so important roles of secretary and treasurer. The format allowed for question and answers. IPP Lohas was very happy about this session with the young leaders.

After the group sessions, the audience was whole again to listen or rather discuss with Angela. Angela beamed with energy while talking about Member motivation and recruitment. Angela is from RACS and held many positions in Interact and Rotaract in the States.

The last topic was triple, tips on how to use cloud based services to enhance team work and reduce email flood, Rotary Citation for Interact clubs and Rotary world video contest for Interact clubs.

To end the day, SCIS HongQiao Interact Vice President Angela Zhang thanked everyone and delivered the closing remarks.

Board training ended on time with many happy faces despite the rainy day.
