The Four-Way Test 四大考验

Of the things we think, say, or do:
对于我们所想、所说、所做的事情，
我们应该事先扪心自问：

1. Is it the truth?
是否一切属于真实?
2. Is it fair to all concerned
是否各方得到公平?
3. Will it build goodwill and better friendships?
能否促进亲善友谊?
4. Will it be beneficial to all concerned?
能否兼顾彼此利益?

HAPPY MONEY RMB10,000.00

What a crowded and busy evening it was at our latest meeting at RCS! Because of the total lock down first and the summer break after, it really has been some time since we gathered and entertained so many of our members and guests. The atmosphere was cheerful, everyone was chatty and curious to know about each other's latest happenings.

Under Richard's guidance, the crowd struggled a little with the new version of the 4-ways test. Carlotta introduced and welcomed the long list of visitors and guests. Our September birthday celebration was also pretty busy with 5 of our members ready to blow the candles!

After the dinner was served, Carlotta grabbed the mic for her Rotary Moment, followed by Thilman who performed his Rotary Minute.

Since we are all finally back after the summer break, Rita (our former president) had the chance to deliver the Paul Harris Fellow recognition to a long list of members and honorary members for their service and contribution last year.

Next, Tiziana collected quite a good amount of bell rings, mostly from people who were happy to reunite, happy for our new president in charge, David, and happy for our fellow's baby's birth...

The evening was so busy we started with a slight delay with what actually was the main event of the evening: our great speaker Christopher Moses gave us a detailed and wide overview about the situation of the international education in China, spanning the recent years. He then went through the changes brought by Covid and the zero cases policy, trying to forecast the developments in the coming future. With a deep knowledge about the topic and a right dose of irony, our members were well entertained. We all turned in so many questions that David had to stop them at a certain point just to put an official end to the meeting, but invited people to stay longer and keep the conversation going.

Highlights from our latest dinner

The origing of Paul Harris Fellow recognition

The Paul Harris Fellow recognition acknowledges individuals who contribute, or who have contributions made in their name, of $1,000 to The Rotary Foundation.

Rotary established the recognition in 1957 to encourage and show appreciation for substantial contributions to what was then the Foundation’s only program, Rotary Foundation Fellowships for Advanced Study, the precursor to Ambassadorial Scholarships. The first Paul Harris Fellows included past RI Director Allison G. Brush, who served during the 1937-38 Rotary year, and longtime RI Treasurer Rufus F. Chapin, both for donations made in 1946. Mrs. Adan Vargas was the first woman to receive the recognition, for a gift made in 1953. Mrs. Harry L. Jones was the second, and one of only five people recognized for contributions actually made in that inaugural year.

Early Paul Harris Fellows received a certificate of recognition. In 1969, the Foundation unveiled the first Paul Harris Fellow medallion at the Rotary Convention in Honolulu, Hawaii, USA. Japanese metal artist Fiju Tsuda created the piece under the direction of former Foundation Trustee Kyozo Yuasa. Today, Paul Harris Fellows receive a certificate and pin. They are also eligible to buy a Paul Harris Fellow medallion.

Rotarians have a tradition of supporting the Foundation by honoring others. Ida LeTulle Taylor became a Paul Harris Fellow in 1978 when her husband, Vann Taylor, who was serving as a district governor, made a donation in her name in honor of their 34th wedding anniversary. The gift also made her the 25,000th Paul Harris Fellow.

At the International Assembly in 1979, incoming RI President James Bomar challenged each Rotary club to make one non-Rotarian a Paul Harris Fellow. The Rotary Club of Pikesville, Maryland, USA, responded by making a donation in the name of Mother Teresa in 1980. The entertainer Pearl Bailey also became a Paul Harris Fellow through a joint effort of the Rotary clubs in Cape Cod, Massachusetts.

Many other notable figures have been named Paul Harris Fellows, including U.S. President Jimmy Carter, Russian President Boris Yeltsin, U.S. astronaut James Lovell, UN Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar, and polio vaccine developer Jonas Salk.

The number of Paul Harris Fellows reached the 1 million mark in 2006.
